

"GAPING DICK" STILL AT LARGE

Posse Hot on the Trail of the Noted Outlaw.

REWARD FOR HIS CAPTURE

FUGITIVE AN OUTLAW FROM HIS YOUTH UP.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 6.—"Laughing Dick," or, as is more commonly called, "Gaping Dick" Carey, said to be the last of the notorious "Hole-in-the-Wall" gang of cattle rustlers and train robbers, for whom rewards aggregating $3,000 have been offered, is still at large, but a posse is close on his trail and his capture is hourly expected. Last Wednesday "Gaping Dick" passed through Saratoga, en route north, twelve hours ahead of the officers, but his mount was jaded and it is thought he cannot escape. In view of the proposed hunting trip of President Roosevelt through Wyoming an extra effort is being made to place the outlaw behind bars. Carey, it is said, was for years a member of the notorious "Butch" Cassidy and George Curry gangs of outlaws that made their headquarters in the "Hole-in-the-Wall" country, in central Wyoming, and the "Robbers' Roost" section of southern Wyoming and northern Colorado.

Outlaw From Boyhood. When a mere boy, it is alleged, he served the older outlaws as herder, messenger and camp attendant. In 1901, in consequence of the theft of 350 horses from the Medicine Butte company in South Dakota, the South Dakota authorities offered $1,000 for Carey's capture, and the Medicine Butte company offered a like sum. Johnson county officers trailed Carey to Walton last October and after a sharp fight, in which Carey's horse was killed under him, captured him. Carey feigned a broken leg and was taken to Senator Madden's ranch near Lost Cabin and was placed in care of a herder over night. Carey was not hurt, however, and during the night he overpowered his guard, secured a pistol and went to the ranch house, where he held up the inmates and secured a Winchester rifle and a belt full of cartridges.

Escaped From Posse. Returning to the barn he mounted the fastest horse and made his escape. The ransomed horse was shot at the escaping bandit and heard him cry out in pain, but he was not dangerously wounded. The next day Carey was trailed a distance of thirty miles by blood from his wound but he took to a stream and thus threw his pursuers off the trail. Senator Madden offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture of the outlaw and since that time officers have been searching for Carey. Early in January "Laughing Dick" was located in Routt county, Colorado, but he got wind of the officers' coming and fled to Utah. About the middle of February Carey was located in the mountains near Thompsons, Utah, but he was warned by friends of the approach of the officers and again made his escape.

SUGAR GOES UP 50 CENTS.

The Cause of the Sudden Increase is Apparently Unknown.

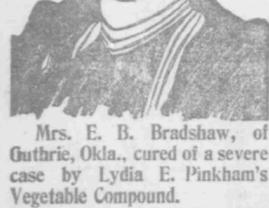

All grades of sugar have been advanced 50 cents per 100 pounds. A notice of the jump was received yesterday by J. W. Heywood, the local representative of the Western Sugar refining company. The increase makes cane granulated sugar worth $4.75 per 100 pounds, 100 lb. San Francisco and been granulated $3.00, under the same conditions. The freight rate on sugar from the Pacific coast to Salt Lake is 10 cents per 100 pounds. It is not known what caused the sudden and unexpected rise, it may be attributed to the influence of the trust, or to the scarcity of that product. There is a possibility that the product of the smaller refineries on the Pacific coast has been exhausted, and that it is the direct cause of the jump. And it is also possible that the sugar trust is hoisting prices.

For some time past there has been a secret cutting of prices here and on the Pacific coast. To prevent that in the future, or to regain the losses sustained by the cutting, prices may have been sent up 50 cents per 100 pounds.

CABINET MEETING.

Washington, March 6.—Secretary Hay and Attorney General Knox did not attend the cabinet meeting today. While the session lasted one hour and a half, it is understood the business of importance was under consideration. Both Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Hay, who will leave early next week for an extended trip to the West Indies, had a few departmental matters to clear up before the departure. Nothing of importance was decided.

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN.

Mrs. E. B. Bradshaw, of Guthrie, Okla., cured of a severe case by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary medical treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition. Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine effects as well. Thousands of testimonial letters prove beyond question that nothing will relieve this distressing condition so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It always works in harmony with the female system. Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address Lynn, Mass.

EIGHT HAVE SMALLPOX

Mrs. Fawson and Seven of Her Children Have That Disease.

The home of Alfred Fawson is a veritable isolation hospital. Seven children and the mother are sick with smallpox. Several days ago Mrs. Fawson came down with the disease, and expected to become prostrated any time. The children who were yesterday reported to the board of health are James, aged 14; Ellen, 13; Alfred, 23, and George, 15 years of age. The other children have smallpox are 11, 13 and 21 years of age respectively.

Where the mother contracted the disease is not known. When the board of health placed the family under quarantine an effort was made to induce the children to become vaccinated, but they refused. They laughed at the idea of their contracting the disease, saying that they would rather have smallpox than be vaccinated. Even after the first three children of the family broke out the remainder declined to respond to the wishes of the board of health.

Two other cases were reported to the board. One of them was R. H. Hardy, aged 40 years. He resides at 149 East Ninth South street. His case was called to the attention of the board by some unknown person who used the telephone. When a health officer called upon Mr. Hardy it was found that his case was an old one; that he had had the disease for almost two weeks, but neglected to notify the authorities.

Mr. Hardy took no precautions to prevent the spread of the disease. It is said that he did not keep within his house, but went out of doors and mingled with other people to such an extent that the board of health is looking for an outbreak of that disease in that section of the city. The number of patients at the isolation hospital was augmented yesterday by the presence of Earl Shimming, aged 22, who lives in the rear of 728 South Fourth East street. He walked into the health office, complaining that he felt ill. Clerk Smith surmised that he had smallpox and instructed him to return home and remain there until a physician could call and examine him. When the diagnosis showed smallpox, Shimming was sent out to the isolation hospital.

AN ELEGANT INTERIOR.

Beautiful Mahogany Fixtures Made Along New and Striking Lines.

The Last Days of the Rush.

The last days of the rush are interesting. Varnishers, painters and fixture-makers are completing their work. The effect is already striking in its elegant simplicity. The appearance on entering the store of Keith-O'Brien company will be one of ease, then astonishment. The eye sweeps the entire floor and clerks and shoppers can be recognized in any part of the building. The show cases and shelving are built along original lines. A woman of ordinary height can see over the tops of all displays. The rear is not dark as in the case of other stores, but is a wall of glass. The iron pillars are silvered, the walls white, and eight skylights and front and rear being of glass, the building is lighted perfectly. There are no square corners. The front show cases are rounded with quarter circles in fine plate glass, and semi-circles mark the ends of the center aisles, the most difficult in glass making. The offices for manager and clerical assistants are in semi-circle, and of two floors. It represents architectural ingenuity. The wide panels of mahogany are from the widest boards in that wood ever shipped west. It is as elegant as a fine bank office. The fixtures are elaborate, plain and rich. Every case and counter rests on arched copper legs. Dust and accumulation. All cases contain electric lights which illuminate from recesses beneath silvered edges and top strips. The balustrades are simple in design. The cloak and fitting rooms are innovations, the most difficult in glass equipment. Even here mahogany is in evidence. The millinery quarters are a revelation. The silk room for evening silks is an inviting retreat. The stairway is original. It is a circle and the steps, which start from the entrance, divide at a point half-way down and wander in semi-circle to the broad landing near the basement floor, where they unite and go the balance of the journey hand in hand. The railings run in graceful curves around the circle to the bottom and then sweep upward to the posts. When you come to the opening of this particular mixture of delightful curves and lively bends and see whether it or they belongs or belong to the singular or plural gender. When you leave the bottom steps you are immediately at the entrance to the abode of Madame Jones, where gowns are created into dreams of everlasting delight. J. P. Poulson made the fixtures from designs by H. P. Pearce, who carried out the ideas of Manager Graham.

GRAND JURY QUESTION

Three Judges of the District Court Will Take the Matter Up Today.

The three judges of the district court will hold a meeting today for the purpose of considering the advisability of calling a special grand jury. Such a request was made of the bench by a number of prominent citizens some weeks ago. They advanced the idea that it would be a good thing to have the morals of the city investigated and the offices of the county officials looked into.

The petition was filed with Judge Morse of the criminal division. At that time it was impossible for the judges to take the matter up and it was postponed until two or three days ago, when Judge Morse and Judge Stewart discussed it in an informal way. As Judge Hall was not present, decisive action was deferred. It is probable that some action will be taken today.

Nash Divorce Hearing Postponed.

There will be no preliminary proceedings in the Nash divorce case to determine whether or not to pay his wife permanent alimony. When the case was called yesterday by Judge Hall, when Nash was supposed to have shown cause why he should not be made to contribute to his wife's support pending the final determination of the suit, his honor announced that the matter had been postponed, that no further action would be taken until the case came up for regular trial, which will probably be some time in April.

Hamilton Again in Trouble.

District Attorney Dennis C. Eshnor received a letter yesterday stating that Floyd Hamilton, who shot and killed a man named Brown last summer in an employment office on First South street, is in jail in Tooele county awaiting trial on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm. Justice of the Peace Snyder held him in $1,000 bonds. In a saloon in Irapah, in the Deep Creek country, Hamilton, it is said, had some words with George D. Felt and Albert Lawson. He ran behind the bar to get a gun to shoot the men, when he was arrested. Barker Hufferd, who had long whiskers, attempted to stop Hamilton, and the latter, grabbing the hair, almost pulled them out of his face.

Argue Payne Demurrer Today.

The demurrer to the information against Dr. E. S. Payne, charging him with causing the death of Anna Hill, the school teacher, will be argued today by Attorney Wallace for the defendant, and District Attorney Dennis C. Eshnor. If the demurrer is sustained the charges against the physician will be dismissed. If it is denied, Dr. Payne will be compelled to stand trial. The arguments will be made before Judge Morse, who will try the case if the demurrer is denied.

District Court Notes.

Charles H. Erickson, aged 16, will be tried today as to his sanity before County Clerk John James and Dr. Mayo and Odell. The complaint was sworn to by Mrs. Ellen Perry of Ogden, who claims that her son, who was employed in the bottling department of the Fisher Brewing company, killed her mother. Judge S. W. Stewart announced yesterday that he would not call his law and motion calendar today.

A Graduate Nurse's Strong Endorsement.

She Marvels at Speedy Cures by Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and Oil.

Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, of Duluth, a Graduate Nurse from Batavia Hospital, tells how Kickapoo Sagwa cured her Husband of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Heart Trouble, when he seemed Beyond Relief. She used Kickapoo Oil with Wonderful Success in her Profession.

Mrs. L. M. Hoyt, Room 7, Over Big Duluth, Duluth, Minn.

KICKAPOO INDIAN MEDICINE CO.

Sirs:—My husband suffered eight years ago with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and considerable Heart Trouble, and nothing ever helped him until he took Kickapoo Sagwa. Fifteen bottles completely cured him, although his ailments had been of several years standing, and we never believed he would be entirely well again. For his sore joints and muscles he applied Kickapoo Oil, and it gave him great relief. In three months he was a well man, and we bless your remedies daily. In my profession as a graduate nurse I have often applied Kickapoo Oil where patients used it by physicians' orders for Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Lamé Back, Toothache, and other aches and pains of different kinds. It has been a marvel to me often to find the blessed relief and speedy cure it brought many a sufferer. Your remedies have my heartiest endorsement. Mrs. L. M. HOYT.

Besides being a wonderfully successful nurse, Mrs. Hoyt is a prominent member of the United Order of Foresters of Duluth, and also of the Order of Eastern Star, No. 86.

A skilled nurse like Mrs. Hoyt, who has great opportunity to judge the value of different medicine, would not have used the Kickapoo Remedies in her own home unless she knew them to be reliable. That her faith in Sagwa and Kickapoo Oil was well founded is shown by her letter. If you are all run down, have Dyspepsia, Kidney or Liver complaint, are sleepless, have Heart Trouble or any disorder arising from poor blood, Kickapoo Sagwa will restore you to health and happiness in a wonderfully short space of time. You can lose nothing by giving it a trial, for all Kickapoo Remedies are sold under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded if you are not satisfied. Kickapoo Oil, the favorite family liniment, is a quick cure for all pain. It's not greasy or strong smelling, but pleasant as cologne to use. It reaches the cause of pain every time and stops it. A bottle in the house saves much sickness and suffering. It's sold at the peoples' price of 25 cents a bottle.
